LIES – DECEIT – FRAUD!! OSAMA BIN LADEN THE MASSIVE DECEPTION AND FRAUD OF HIS CAPTURE AND KILLING

"VERILY, THEY CONSPIRED THEIR PLOTS WHILST (THE ULTIMATE RESULT) OF THEIR PLOTS IS WITH ALLAH EVEN THOUGH THEIR PLOTS (ARE OF SUCH A MASSIVE NATURE) THAT MOUNTAINS COULD BE DISPLACED."

(Ibraaheem, Aayat 46)

THE '24-HOUR' DECEPTION

The date was 17 August 1988 when the Pakistan Air Force aircraft in which President Ziaul Haq of Pakistan was travelling, was destroyed by an act of sabotage conspired by the U.S.A. who was not prepared to see Ziaul Haq aid the Afghan Mujahideen who had routed and expelled the Russians, to establish an Islamic government in Kabul. No autopsies and investigations were allowed. Brigadier Mohammed Yusuf of the Pakistan army, stated: "A U.S. official was to announce that the bodies were not available for autopsy as Muslim custom requires burial within 24 hours. While this is true in normal circumstances, it never applies within the Services, as shown by Army medical staff at Bahawalpur when they automatically made preparations to proceed.So it was an act of mass murder (More than 31 people were murdered by this act of U.S. sabotage).Assistant Defence Secretary Richard Armitage justified the lack of any serious investigations into the sabotage by claiming, ("we were") hopefully moving Pakistan in a more democratic manner..." The State Department did four things immediately after the crash which, taken together, point unerringly at a cover-up. First, within hours, it sent a team of purely technical airforce advisers to assist the PAF Board of Inquiry. Secondly, it did not insist, through its embassy, on autopsies on the bodies of the victims, particularly the crew, but rather allowed them to be buried knowing that essential evidence as to how the crash was caused was being buried with them. Thirdly, it sent a deputy National Security Adviser, Robert Oakley, to take over Raphel's post. He could be relied on to sit on the lid of the can. Fourthly, and most importantly, it vetoed the FBI's request to go to Pakistan. Oliver Revell, FBI's Assistant had requested clearance and on 21 August had been given it verbally, but within hours, it had been withdrawn"

Regurgitating the same 24 hour deception, it is currently reported:

"Pentagon officials said Monday that Bin Laden's body was handled in accordance with Muslim traditions, which include strict rules on burial taking place 24 hours after death." Sources confirmed to CBS News national security correspondent David Martin that his body was released into the sea from a U.S. Navy vessel on Monday, likely into the Indian Ocean."

True to form, the U.S. Shaitaan and Arch-Terrorist, pretending to respect Islamic rites to conceal its barbarism, once again concocted its '24-Hour' Deception to cover up the evidence of its massive LIE and conspiracy. The 24-Hour conspiratorial stunt was presented to cover up and bury the evidence related to the US murder of President Ziaul Haq of Pakistan in 1988. Today this Master Plotter again resurrected the same 24-Hour Lie and Deception in its clumsy attempt to bury or sink the evidence which would have exploded the myth of the 'capture and killing' of Osama Bin Laden.

That Osama is dead, there is hardly any doubt. That he was captured and killed by US forces is a massive LIE which even the baboons inhabiting the Amazon jungle will reject with mirth and contempt. The much-advertized circumstances surrounding his alleged capture, killing and 'burial' at sea may be swallowed by the U.S. public famous for its donkey mentality, but people of intelligence outrightly reject the brazenly conspicuous lies and stunts with which the US is now vainly attempting to convince the world.

Either a dead donkey was thrown into the sea for the mental consumption of a donkey public or no such mock sea burial ever took place. Who witnessed the event which in terms of western understanding is supposed to be a momentous occasion? What evidence is there that if any such alleged 'burial' occurred, it was Osama's body? His alleged capture, the events during the confrontation, his killing, the area where he was allegedly captured and numerous other facts are all clouded with an illogical mystery which is unacceptable to people who possess rational brains.

If Osama was captured 'alive' as one version of the murtad, Obama's story goes, he would have been very unceremoniously and with great fanfare and jubilation taken to America where the US government would have extracted maximum publicity to bolster the plummeting ratings of the murtad, Obama and his party of plotters. It would be the ideal scenario of the US conspirators to parade Osama at a mock trial in US courts where a system of jungle law reigns, in the same way as they had abducted Sister Aafiyah from Afghanistan, tortured her brutally, put her on a mock and farcical trial in a US kangaroo court where the US jungle judge refused to listen to her testimony, then sentenced her to spend her life in a US dungeon.

THE DISCREPANCIES

(1) The BBC News reported: "The US military took this requirement (of burying as soon as possible according to Islamic tradition) seriously, burying the body within hours. Religious rites were carried on the deck of a US aircraft carrier, the USS Carl Vinson. The body, shrouded in a white sheet and placed in a weighted bag, was then placed on a flat board, tipped up, and eased into the Arabian Sea.

This occurred at 0600GMT, approximately 12 hours after the fire fight during which Osama Bin Lad-

Days after the alleged US raid on a house in the Pakistani military suburb of Abbottabad, some 'Jihadist internet forums' have confirmed that Osama was killed by US forces in his alleged 'hideout' – house No.254. At this stage we shall suffice with the observation that every movement, be it the Taliban, the Madaaris, the Khaanqahs, the Tabligh Jamaat, the various Mujahideen outfits, etc. have all been successfully infiltrated by U.S.A. and Napakistani intelligence agencies.

CONFIRMING OSAMA'S DEATH?

Some of those in the top echelons of movements are treacherous spies and agents who sabotage the Jihad from within.

Those who are supposed to be the most knowledgeable of Osama Bin Laden's true hideout, movements, life and death, viz., the Taliban, are themselves blissfully unaware of these facts which have eluded them for a whole decade. They, that is, the rank and file of the Taliban and

Mujahideen, are in the dark about Osama just as the rest of the world is in the dark. They transmit only what comes to them from the hierarchy, and there is a big question mark on this hierarchy. The Qur'aan Majeed says: "Verily, their plots make even mountains move." May Allah Ta'ala save the Ummah from the treachery of the traitors who have infiltrated the Mujahideen and the other Deeni movements.

According to the Qur'aan, there is only one prescription for safety from the venom of treachery:

"And, if you have Sabr and Taqwa, then never ever will their conspiracies harm you (O Mu'mineen!)."

If the Ummah reverts back to the Sunnah, and fully submits to the Shari'ah, then, and only then, will Allah Ta'ala neutralize the plots and vile schemes of traitors, munaafiqs and the kuffaar enemies who have all united to gobble up the lands of Islam and to destroy the Ummah.

THE USA – A NATION OF DONKEYS

There is no nation on earth today as stupid and gullible as the American people. They believe just any rubbish which their politicians gorge out, no matter how irrational and illogic. A non-Muslim, Adrian de Villeirs, writing in The Herald (Port Elizabeth) observes:

“There are really decent people in America, but as a nation they’ve spiralled out of control and they don’t even know it. (That is because they are donkeys – Al-Haq). No one questions the morality of this or why there is this corrupt war in Afghanistan going on. We mankind need a serious change in moral direction or we are going to destroy this world God gave us to look after.

So America has progressed on a downward moral spiral and got more perverse and wicked. Henceforth, we have a spiralling number of abortions, rampant sexual immorality and seriously corrupt banking systems.”

These donkeys are savages howling for blood.

ANOTHER U.S. LIE

In a vain attempt to bolster the clumsy falsity of house No.254, the U.S.A. now presents another Lie: “This compound in Abbottabad was an active command and control centre for al-Qaeda’s top leader and it is clear that he was not just a strategic thinker for the group. He was active in operational planning and in driving tactical decisions.” Yet, all the ‘cream’ of the murderous intelligence apparatus of America, Britain and Pakistan remained stupidly unaware of what was happening right in front of their eyes for a whole decade!

Allegedly five video-tapes were found in the ‘hideout’. Commenting on the tapes, the BBC News said: “There is nothing in the videos to place Bin Laden in the compound where he was killed.” (Killed? As the donkeys have been made to believe. – Al-Haq)

TALIBAN’S TRIPLE ATTACK

Fierce fighting has been reported in Kandahar, the capital city of Southern Afghanistan. The Taliban led a triple assault on government buildings in the centre of the city. A U.S. Marine, Maj-Gen James Laster who is a spokesman for the international coalition of invaders said: “This clearly was intended to be a spring offensive spectacular attack.”

Firing continued until late on Sunday. The Afghan Spy agency, the National Directorate of Security told the BBC: “Fighting is still intense. They are using heavy machine guns, rocket-propelled grenades and Ak-47s. They planned this well in advance.”

Seven explosions paralyzed the city. Scared civilians were running in the streets for safety and shopkeepers closed their shops while military helicopters were hovering overhead. One city shopkeeper said: “Forget about people. Even the birds have fled the city. Government and municipal buildings were destroyed in the Taliban attack.

With the melting of the ice, Taliban offensives will be on the increase.

THE FRAUD AND THE FAKE OF THE U.S.

OSAMA’S BODY IN A U.S. MORGUE FOR YEARS?

Paul Joseph Warson, Editor of Prison Planet, in a report wrote:

“Everything about the Bin Laden myth is fake, so why worry about illustrating his ‘death’ with another contrived hoax? Killing Osama bin Laden is a pretty big deal. You’d think that it would be in the interests of US forces to take a snapshot of the elusive terror leader to milk the propaganda value of such a momentous turn of events, and yet the corporate media has given us nothing but a years old fake picture.

This makes little sense, unless of course, somebody is trying to hide something, namely the fact that Osama’s dead corpse has been on ice for the best part of a decade.

According to some reports, Bin Laden’s body has already been hastily “buried at sea” meaning that the comic book story of his dramatic killing is based solely on the less than credible word of the U.S. government. Of course, it’s probable that we’ll be treated to seeing all the gory details in due course once Osama’s corpse has been properly thawed and suitably presented for public consumption.

Everything about the Bin Laden myth that has been rapaciously

ANOTHER CONCOCTION

In a second version of Osama’s alleged capture and killing, Washington categorically stated that there was no fire-fight and that Osama was unarmed. But inexplicably and stupidly one of the US commandos had shot and killed America’s most prized intelligence asset. Now intelligence sources in Napakistan are saying that four bullet-riddled bodies were recovered from the compound, and Pakistani security agencies had arrested two women and six children, aged between 2 and 12 years after the US forces withdrew and flew to Afghanistan with Osama’s body. Another version of the intelligence agency claims that 16 people, including women and children, were arrested.

It has been further speculated that US forces could not arrest Osama’s family members because they “did not have sufficient places in the helicopter after they lost another chopper during the operation.”

This means that two helicopters participated in the alleged raid. One was mysteriously downed or destroyed, and one acted as the get-away vehicle.

It is claimed that the woman who was killed was Osama’s wife or a close family member. She sacrificed her life for him. The intelligence officer said: “As per our information, she shielded Bin Laden during the operation and was killed by American commandos.” It is further claimed that by the time Pakistani intelligence agencies and military personnel arrived at the house, “the US commandos were flying over the mountains in the Pakistani tribal belt, well on their way to Afghanistan.”

Can any sane person believe this concoction? All this action taking place with two choppers having landed, one destroyed in an intensive ‘fire fight’ right inside Pakistan’s top military barracks without anyone knowing, and only after killing several persons and Bin Laden, loading them in the helicopter and flying miles away over the mountains, does the Pakistani military and intelligence apparatus wake up. Nothing but compounded lies and illogic concoction!

And according to yet another concocted version, of the 16 persons alleged to have been inside the ‘hideout’, why did only the 12 year old girl report that Bin Laden was unarmed and that after being captured, he was shot? None of the other alleged occupants had corroborated her story.

A Pakistani security official said: “Not a single bullet was fired from the compound at the US forces and their choppers. Their chopper developed some technical fault and crashed and the wreckage was left on the spot.. No arms and explosives were recovered during the detailed search of the compound on Monday and Tuesday. It was a simple house comprising 13 rooms, six on the ground floor and the remaining on the first and second floors. There was no bunker or tunnel inside the house and that’s why I don’t understand why the world’s most wanted man would have decided to live here.”

How strange! Even after the American chopper crashed at the house, none of the security personnel in that restricted military barracks received the slightest breeze of the episode being enacted right under their noses.

DARING JAIL -BREAK BY 540 TALIBAN

In a spectacular daring jailbreak at Kandahar Central Prison, the Taliban sprung to freedom 540 Mujahideen, including 106 of its military commanders. The Taliban dug a 320 metre long tunnel from outside over a five month period, then broke through the concrete prison floor. Within four and half hours, from 11 pm to 3.30 am, all the Mujahideen escaped through the tunnel. And, it was only four hours after the escape that the jailbreak was discovered when the Taliban informed the prison by telephone.

Mujahideen from outside dug the tunnel from inside a house. That the secrecy was maintained for five months is itself remarkable. Even the breaking through the concrete floor of the prison was not picked up by the prison guards. In a statement, the Taliban said:

“Mujahideen started digging a 320 metre-long tunnel to the prison from the south side, bypassing check posts and the Kandahar-Herat main highway leading directly to the political prison. The tunnel reached its target last night, from where the prisoner Mujahideen were led away through the escape route by three previously informed inmates in a period of four-and-a-half hours, starting from 11 pm and ending at 3.30 am this morning. Mujahideen later on sent vehicles to the inmates who were led away to secure destinations. They all have made it safe to our centres and there was no fighting. 106 were commanders and the rest foot soldiers.”

THE CONFLAGRATION IN THE ARAB LANDS

“Fasaad (anarchy) has appeared on the land and the ocean because of that which the hands of people have earned, so that Allah gives them to taste some of their (misdeeds) which they have earned, for perhaps they may return (to the Path of obedience).”
(Surah Room, aayat 41))

Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) predicting about the evil and mischief of the people of later times said: “Both the killer and the killed will be in the Fire (of Jahannum).”

The anarchy in the Arab lands is the consequence of the gross evil - fitnah, fisq, fujoor and kufr - of the people of those countries. The Muslim nations of the world have become the enemies of Islam. They are greater enemies of Islam than even the U.S.A, Russia and China, for the overwhelming majority of the professed ‘Muslims’ are kuffaar of the Zindeeq class. Hence the conflagration of anarchy which is sweeping the Arab lands is Allah’s punishment. The Qur’aan categorically warns of Allah’s Athaab for gross transgression. The Hadith explicitly mentions internecine warfare as a form of Divine Chastisement.

The antagonists – the governments and the masses – are all on an evil path, moving further away from Siraatul Mustaqeem. The concepts of the opposing camps is kufr of different hues. The masses, masquerading as Muslims, who are fighting their oppressive kaaafir rulers are not much better than the tyrants who had abused and oppressed them for decades.

While the tyrannical rulers such as Zein of Tunisia, Mubarak of Egypt, Assad of Syria and Ghadhafi of Libya have openly demonstrated their aversion for the Shariah and have effectively abrogated the Law of Islam, the masses who had been and are baying for their blood are no better. Both groups are avowedly anti-Islam and satanic. Both groups are pursuing the path of kufr. Those who have displaced the tyrants, are not fighting in the name of Islam or for Islam, nor have they displayed the slightest inclination for the introduction of the Shariah to govern their lives and the country.

In Tunisia and Egypt where the oppressors have been removed, and in Libya where the mutual murder continues unabated, the masses are singing the tune of kufr ‘democracy’ at the behest of the U.S.A. Allah Ta’ala and His Rasool (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) are the furthest from their minds and tongues. Only slogans of kufr are proclaimed. The desire is for kufr democracy, not for Shariah Rule. It is merely the substitution of one kufr system for another kufr system.

There is however, one redeeming factor for the followers of the Deen in the conflagration of anarchy sweeping their lands. The displacement of the brutal tyrants and the institution of a new system of government despite being kufr, will provide the People of the Deen a breathing space which they could utilize for maximum benefit only if they conduct themselves intelligently and divorce themselves from the ruling establishment. The displacement of the tyrants has provided the People of the Deen an opportunity in which to silently embark on Deeni educational and moral training programmes on a massive scale.

The Ummah is sick and corrupt to the core. A morally degenerate and spiritually bankrupt people can never be the upholders of the standard of Jihad. They do not represent Islam. Success in Jihad and victory in the battlefield are imperatively reliant on a high degree of moral purification and roohaaniyat (elevated spirituality). Minus these absolutely vital factors there can never be success and victory for Muslims. It is therefore imperative to focus attention on the present generation of children. Imaan and Akhlaaq must be grounded in them. Deeni Ta’leem should become the priority with lesser emphasis on secular education. This does not mean abandonment of secular education. It only means that in relation to preparation for the life Hereafter, secular education should become secondary and made subservient to the limits and hues of the Shariah. The spirit of Islam, which is the concern for the Aakhirah and disdain for this dunya, has to be cultivated in the children of the Ummah.

The People of the Deen should act with wisdom. They should totally separate themselves from the kufr politics of their governments, and concentrate fully on the Islamic education and Islaahi training of the nation, primarily of the children, for they will be the Ummah of tomorrow.

The Ummah as it stands today, comes within the purview of the following Hadith narrated by Hadhrat Ibn Umar (radhiyallahu anhu): “There will dawn an age over the people when they will gather in their Musaajid and perform Salaat while not a single one of them will be a Mu’min.” We are in the very midst of this cauldron of kufr. The predictions of Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) are finding application in this era most conspicuously. The extent of irreligiosity, immorality and kufr raging in the Ummah is shockingly lamentable. The Aqaaid (Beliefs) of almost every person are corrupt. Aqaaid are denied or mangled to suit whims or the western masters whose boots are being licked with pride.

When the masses demonstrating in the streets against the tyrant, Hosni Mubarak gang-rape foreign female journalists, then we ask: Are these barbarians Muslims? Were they ever Muslims? What relationship do these savages baying for the blood of the tyrants have with Islam? Yet, these very barbarians are replacing the oppressors and the tyrants. Soon a new brand of tyranny will emerge. However, in the initial stage of the new kufr system, there will be some latitude for the Deeni conscious Muslims to embark on pure Deeni projects. Alas! This is not set to happen. The downward spiral of immorality and kufr is incremental.

A proper and valid Islamic revolution can be accomplished by only a nation whose morality is the Uswah Hasanah- The Beautiful Character – of Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam). This is the first, absolutely necessary phase for the establishment of Khilaafate.

In the present degenerate moral stage, Muslims –those who have a strong bond with the Deen - should only concentrate on the development of spiritual fibre by total submission to the Shariah and adoption of the Sunnah in every sphere of life. If this goal is achieved, Allah Ta’ala will do the rest to turn the tables in the same way as He had enacted the victories of the Sahaabah. The Qur’aan Majidee states:

“What! Do you not know that, verily, unto Allah belongs the sovereignty of the heavens and the earth? And, besides Allah, there is no

THE OBJECTIVE OF POLITICAL POWER

Allah Azza Wa Jal bestows political power to Muslims for only one reason – to raise and establish His Word. Allah Ta’ala has despatched Muslim man to earth as His Vicegerent to administer His Shariah to His creatures, and to clear the path of everlasting salvation of all the impediments of kufr, fisq and fujoor which prevent man from safely reaching Home in Jannat. Declaring the objective of political power, the Qur’aan Hakeem states with clarity and emphasis: “Most assuredly Allah helps those who help Him (i.e. His Deen on earth). Verily, Allah is most powerful and mighty. They (those whom He help) are those – if We (Allah) grant them power on earth, they establish Salaat, pay Zakaat, command virtue and prohibit evil. And, the ultimate consequence of all affairs is with Allah.”

(Surah Hajj, aayat 41)

The one and only Article of which the Constitution of an Islamic state should comprise of is the aforementioned Qur’aanic aayat. Every other act of spiritual, moral and mundane life and affairs operates under the umbrella of this Article of the Constitution. It is only Allah’s Shariah which governs. The Khalifah – the Islamic Ruler – is never a lawmaker. He is only the Administrator of Allah’s Law.

This was the mission entrusted to the Sahaabah, and they pursued this divinely commanded objective with profound diligence and devotion. Allah’s nusrat (aid) was thus always at hand for the Sahaabah. Wherever they went, they achieved resounding victories despite extreme paucity of worldly means. Within a few years they overran the world, vanquished the two world powers – the Roman and Persian empires – and raised the Standard of Tauheed on the hilltops of the world.

The Muslim nations of the world, grovelling in abject moral degeneration and kufr, bowing and prostrating to the U.S.A. and its retinue of kuffaar states and cultures, have appointed these enemies of Islam to be their leaders. Allah Ta’ala has therefore imposed them to be our rulers. There seems no longer any hope for this fallen and disgraced Ummah other than the advent of Imaam Mahdi (alayhis salaam).

TALIBAN ‘ARMY OFFICER’ KILLS 9 U.S. SOLDIERS

A Taliban Mujahid who had infiltrated the Afghan army succeeded in eliminating nine U.S. soldiers when he opened fire at the air force headquarters in Kabul. The Mujahid was martyred in the action. The Taliban said that the Mujahid had been serving in the army for a long time and finally he was blessed with the opportunity to eliminate the aggressors and drink from the Cup of Martyrdom.

The BBC News reports: “NATO efforts to train and equip local forces into taking responsibility for security across Afghanistan by 2014 have been hit by a string of attacks carried out by men who have apparently infiltrated the armed forces or who committed attacks wearing unauthorised uniforms.

The defence ministry in Kabul was targeted last week by a gunman in army uniform wearing a suicide vest, in an attack that left three people dead. Earlier this month, an attack at a military base in the east killed nine including five foreign troops and four Afghan soldiers, while the police chief in Kandahar in southern Afghanistan was also assassinated.”

HIS PUNISHMENT

"And fear such a fitnah (divine punishment) which will most assuredly not be restricted to only the (flagrant) transgressors. And, know that verily Allah is severe in punishment." (Qur'aan)

When the guardians of the Shariah – the Ulama – follow in the footsteps of the priests and monks of the Yahood and Nasaara, by abstaining from Amr Bil Ma'roof, Nahy Anil Munkar and with their silence when the Haqq of Islam is being distorted and trampled on by professed Muslims, then such Ulama slide into the camp of the Ulama -e-Soo' (the evil scholars). This Qur'aanic aayat, in particular, refers to the Ulama-e-Soo'.

Furthermore, within the scope of this divine warning come even the very pious worshippers who consciously follow the Deen, but abstain from Amr Bil Ma'roof Nahy anil Munkar. They become desensitized in their evil environment. They begin to socialize and fraternize with the flagrant violators of the Shariah. They condone the acts of transgression of the wealthy and manufacture decrees (fataawa) of permissibility for their wrong-doings to ensure there is no cessation of donations and gifts. Such pious worshippers will also be caught in the whirlwind of divine chastisement when it overtakes the community. They will find no succour.

Hadhrat Aishah (radhiyallahu anha) narrated that Allah Ta'ala commanded Jibraeel (alayhis salaam) to destroy a city in which there lived 20,000 saintly persons whose A'maal-e-Saalihah (Pious Deeds) were like the deeds of Ambiya. When Jibraeel (alayhis salaam) queried the secret underlying this Divine Command, Allah Ta'ala informed him that these Aabideen (pious worshippers) abstained from Amr Bil Ma'roof Nahy Anil Munkar. They fraternized and associated with the flagrant transgressors. They responded to their haraam wedding invitations and other merry-making functions, and consumed the mal-oon (accursed) food served at these evil functions. This 'hikmat' (satanic diplomacy) which is the hallmark of the Ulama-e-Soo' of our time, led to the ruin and destruction of even these 20,000 Aabideen.

The Ulama should divert their gaze from the pockets of their donors, and focus it on Allah Azza Wa Jal. The projects of the Deen will operate, continue, expand or decrease according to the decree of Allah Ta'ala. The safeguarding of the Deen is Allah's responsibility. The responsibility of the Muslim is to only ensure that he maintains himself strictly within the limits of the Shariah.

"Say: Nothing befalls us except what Allah has decreed for us. He is our protector. Thus, the Mu'minoon should have trust on Allah." (Qur'aan)

Osama bin Laden's Second Death

LIES AND DECEPTION

URL of this article : www.globalresearch.ca/index.php?context=va&aid=24587

By Dr. Paul Craig Roberts, May 2, 2011

If today were April 1 and not May 2, we could dismiss as an April fool's joke this morning's headline that Osama bin Laden was killed in a firefight in Pakistan and quickly buried at sea. As it is, we must take it as more evidence that the US government has unlimited belief in the gullibility of Americans.

Think about it. What are the chances that a person allegedly suffering from kidney disease and requiring dialysis and, in addition, afflicted with diabetes and low blood pressure, survived in mountain hideaways for a decade? If bin Laden was able to acquire dialysis equipment and medical care that his condition required, would not the shipment of dialysis equipment point to his location? Why did it take ten years to find him?

Consider also the claims, repeated by a triumphalist US media celebrating bin Laden's death, that "bin Laden used his millions to bankroll terrorist training camps in Sudan, the Philippines, and Afghanistan, sending 'holy warriors' to foment revolution and fight with fundamentalist Muslim forces across North Africa, in Chechnya, Tajikistan and Bosnia." That's a lot of activity for mere millions to bankroll (perhaps the US should have put him in charge of the Pentagon), but the main question is: how was bin Laden able to move his money about? What banking system was helping him? The US government succeeds in seizing the assets of people and of entire countries, Libya being the most recent. Why not bin Laden's? Was he carrying around with him $100 million dollars in gold coins and sending emissaries to distribute payments to his far-flung operations?

This morning's headline has the odor of a staged event. The smell reeks from the triumphalist news reports loaded with exaggerations, from celebrants waving flags and chanting "USA USA." Could something else be going on?

No doubt President Obama is in desperate need of a victory. He committed the fool's error restarting the war in Afghanistan, and now after a decade of fighting the US faces stalemate, if not defeat. The wars of the Bush/Obama regimes have bankrupted the US, leaving huge deficits and a declining dollar in their wake. And reelection time is approaching.

The various lies and deceptions, such as "weapons of mass destruction," of the last several administrations had terrible consequences for the US and the world. But not all deceptions are the same. Remember, the entire reason for invading Afghanistan in the first place was to get bin Laden. Now that President Obama has declared bin Laden to have been shot in the head by US special forces operating in an independent country and buried at sea, there is no reason for continuing the war.

Perhaps the precipitous decline in the US dollar in foreign exchange markets has forced some real budget reductions, which can only come from stopping the open-ended wars. Until the decline of the dollar reached the breaking point, Osama bin Laden, who many experts believe to have been dead for years, was a useful bogymen to use to feed the profits of the US military/security complex.

FEMALE LEADERSHIP

"Men are the rulers over women." (Qur'aan)

Hadhrat Abu Bakr (radhiyallahu anhu) narrated that a messenger returned from the army despatched by Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) to convey some information of the kuffaar forces. One of the things mentioned by him was: that a woman was their ruler. Rasulullah (sallallahu alahu alayhi wasallam) said: "Men are destroyed when they follow women." (Mustadrak-e-Haakim)

Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: "When your rulers are the best among you; your wealthy the most generous among you, and your affairs are decided by mutual consultation, then the surface of the earth is better for you than its bowels (the graves). (But) when your rulers are the vilest of you; your wealthy are the misers, and your affairs are entrusted to women, then the bowels of the earth are better for you than its surface." (Tirmizi)

Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: "There is no Jihad, no Jumuah and no following of the Ja-naazah for women."

When Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) was informed that the after the death of the Persian emperor, his daughter ascended the throne, he commented: "Never will prosper a nation who assigns its affairs to a woman." There exists Ijma' (Consensus) of fourteen centuries that it is not permissible to appoint a woman to any position of leadership. Summing up this position of the Shariah, Imaam Ghazaali (rahmatullah alayh) stated: "Imaamate (leadership) of a woman is not valid even if all the attributes of perfection and excellence are found in her." (Fadhaaihl Baatiniyyah) Among the signs of Qiyaamah, Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said is: "A man will follow his wife."

DEMOCRACY - THE RULE OF MORONS

Hakimul Ummat Hadhrat Maulana Ashraf Ali Thanvi (rahmatullah alayh) commenting on the western system of democracy, said: "Morons are assembled for presenting majority opinion. The opinion of the majority of morons will certainly incline towards stupidity."

In rejection of democracy, Hadhrat Maulana Ashraf Ali Thanvi (rahmatullah alayh) presented the Qur'aanic aayat: 'And, if you follow the majority on earth, then will deviate you from the Path of Allah'

Bin Laden's Death

By Stephen Lendman Tue, 2011-05-03

Lies, Damn Lies, and Bin Laden's Death

Winston Churchill rightly explained that "(a) lie gets halfway around the world before the truth has a chance to get its pants on." He said it perhaps before television. For sure before 24-hour cable TV and modern technology instantly communicating globally.

It applies to Obama's latest lie, announced at 11:35PM EDT on bin Laden, saying: "Tonight, I can report to the American people and to the world that the United States has conducted an operation that killed Osama bin Laden, the leader of al Qaeda, and a terrorist who's responsible for the murder of thousands of innocent men, women, and children."

Highlighting 9/11, he painstakingly discussed everything but the truth. America's media repeated it. Celebratory crowds in front of the White House, in Times Square, and at "ground zero" cheered it past midnight, mindlessly believing a lie. More on that below. On May 1, New York Times writers

Peter Baker, Helene Cooper and Mark Mazzetti headlined, "Bin Laden Is Dead, Obama says: continuing:

Calling him "the mastermind of the most devastating attack on American soil in modern times and the most hunted man in the world," Obama announced his death Sunday night, declaring "justice has been done."

Cheerleading, not reporting, Baker, Cooper and Mazzetti called his "demise a defining moment in the American-led fight against terrorism, a symbolic stroke affirming the relentlessness of the pursuit of those who attacked New York and Washington on Sept. 11, 2001."

New Year's eve arrived early in America, celebrating a lie, the "bewildered herd" again seduced by presidential deception.

A USA Today editorial headlined, "At last, bin Laden is dead," saying: "Could there be any more satisfying words to hear?"

The Boston Globe highlighted "a moment of unity" after nearly a decade of war, calling Obama's announcement a "vindication of a

SOMALIA: MUJAHIDEEN CONTROL 90% OF THE CAPITAL

Ansar Forum reported that the Mujahideen of Al-Shabaab have increased the number of checkpoints in Mogadishu and expanded their zone of control over the capital of Somalia. Sheikh Abu Rahman, governor of Banaadir region, told the Islamic media outlets in Mogadishu about the situation developing in the province. He said that the Mujahideen forces control most of Somalia's capital and that they have inflicted the African aggressors and the puppet troops heavy blows.

The governor of Islamic province of Banaadir said that the Mujahideen are planning to destroy the formations of African invaders, who yet remain in Mogadishu and terrorize peaceful Muslims.

"Mujahideen control and administer 90 percent, and Insha'Allah the remaining (territory) will be completed (conquered)", said the governor of Banaadir.

Al-Shabaab officials also spoke about the ongoing project to reform the roads in Mogadishu, saying that the project is realized successfully.

Meanwhile, the puppet transitional government of Somalia has announced that it temporarily forbids "politically motivated meetings" in the capital Mogadishu, fearing that Mujahideen may carry out martyrdom operations during their gatherings.

Sources say that at the moment Mujahideen control about 50% of the entire country.

In this regard, we would like to recall that last year the Mujahideen Al-Shabaab and the Hizb-Al-Islam joined their ranks in the struggle against invaders and minions, claiming that they have a common goal - the establishment of Islamic rule in Somalia. After the liberation of Somalia, Al-Shabaab is planning to assist the Mujahideen in neighboring Yemen, which is located in close proximity to Somalia - they are only separated by the Gulf of Aden.

TALIBAN SHUTS DOWN MOBILE NETWORK

The Taliban ordered all mobile telephone networks in Afghanistan's Helmand Province to shut down or face being blown up. All companies without exception immediately complied and the telephone networks have been promptly switched off. The chagrin and protests of the U.S.A., its coalition and the puppet president, Kerzai have had no effect in persuading the companies to operate in disregard of the Taliban's command. "If you want us to operate, protect us against the Taliban!", is the message of the telephone companies. The BBC News reports:

"Correspondents say that the decision of the mobile companies to obey the order reflects the militants' power in one of Afghanistan's most restive areas. Helmand has been at the centre of Nato's effort to fight the Taliban.

The BBC's correspondent in Kabul says a handful of mobile companies provide a vital service to the people of Helmand. Land lines provide only 1% of telephone services in the province. Our correspondent says that this is the first time that militants have completely closed down the telephone network in Helmand. It is not clear when they might reopen."

The complete shutdown of the entire mobile telephone network at the command of the Taliban evidences the power and extent of the Taliban's control and the impotency of the US Superpower with its coalition of aggressors. It is indeed remarkable that despite the US, Nato and the more than 40 countries having a combined ground force of approximately 400,000 including the Afghan army, they have been rendered impotent and are hopelessly incapable of protecting the telephone companies against the 'rag-tag' army of the Taliban. This display of power by the Taliban is a sure sign of Allah's nusrat (aid).

With the most lethal power provided by the superpower's super-technology, with its thousands of war-planes, murderous bombs, tanks, armoured vehicles, long-range heavy guns, etc., etc., of which the Taliban has none, the US with its coalition has become bogged down in the quagmire and hell it has created for itself in Afghanistan. Currently, the U.S.A. stands in Afghanistan like a dog with its tail between its legs. May Allah Ta'ala bestow a resounding victory to the Taliban and a crushing defeat to the brutal aggressors who pummel villages and kill civilians from the air with their merciless bombardments.

OSAMA'S DEATH THE SEAL OF CONFIRMATION

Three of four days after Obama's announcement of the 'death' of Osama Bin Laden, came the belated confirmation by the Taliban hierarchy. The confirmation by the Taliban hierarchy is not of much significance for certitude. The seal of confirmation on Osama's death was the grand display, whether real or fictitious, of the dumping of a donkey somewhere in the ocean and proclaiming it to be the body of Osama.

The official announcement by Obama accompanied by the statement of dumping a dead donkey, is the final seal of confirmation to eliminate any doubt regarding the death of Osama Bin Laden. That Osama's body was not dumped in the ocean is a near certitude. Allah knows best. But the facts underlying this cruel comic enactment constrain all men of intelligence to dismiss and reject the fraud and lies emanating from Washington and corroborated by the muffled confirmation echoed by Pakistan and the Taliban hierarchy.

If the U.S.A. had any doubt as to Osama's death, the fraud of dumping a donkey in the ocean in Osama's name would not have been perpetrated, for the fear of Osama surfacing, which would then be humiliating for Obama and clique. Whether Osama lies buried in some unmarked grave in Afghanistan or Pakistan, or whether his body is being preserved in a high security U.S. mortuary as some responsible U.S. officials have informed, is a matter for speculation at this stage. But, his death is no longer up for speculation.

Those in the best position to know the truth are the Taliban hierarchy and Pakistan's Inter-State Intelligence (ISI) agency. It is no secret that there are close links between these two organizations. In fact, much of the direction the war in Afghanistan takes is controlled by the ISI. While the rank and file of the Taliban and Mujahideen are fighting a just Waajib Jihad, there appears something amiss in the hierarchy. Allah knows best. The truth will ultimately surface. The Haqq cannot be suppressed for ever.

The successes which the Taliban are achieving against the US superpower, super oppressor with its coalition of 40 countries, is entirely due to the sincerity of the Mujahideen foot-soldiers who are fighting the aggressors for the Pleasure of Allah Ta'ala.

manhunt spanning presidential administrations, and involving numerous agencies and countless intelligence officers." AP quoted Bill Clinton saying:

"I congratulate the president, the national security team and the members of our armed forces on bringing Osama bin Laden to justice after more than a decade of murderous al Qaeda attacks."

House speaker John Boehner (R. OH) said it was "great news..." House Democrat leader Nancy Pelosi called it "historic."

Senate Democrat leader Harry Reid "reaffirm(ed) our resolve to defeat the terrorist forces that killed (9/11 victims) and thousands of others across the globe."

Expect lots more cheerleading ahead, led by major media reports doing what they do best, providing sanitized, managed news, not truth.

Separating Fact from Fiction

Post-9/11, bin Laden became "Enemy Number One," the nation's top "security threat." In fact, if he hadn't existed, he'd have been invented for political advantage.

In March 1985, after Ronald Reagan signed National Security Decision Directive (NSDD) 166 to arm Afghan Mujahideen fighters, Pakistan's Inter Services Intelligence (ISI) recruited bin Laden to fight Soviet Afghan forces as a CIA asset. He likely remained one until his death, while simultaneously called "Enemy Number One," using him advantageously both ways.

David Ray Griffin wrote seminal books on 9/11, including "The New Pearl Harbor," "The 9/11 Commission Report," "9/11 and American Empire," "9/11 Contradictions," "Mysterious Collapse of World Trade Center 7," and "Osama Bin Laden: Dead or Alive?" It was also the title of his October 9, 2009 Global Research article, covering two types of evidence:

(1) Objective evidence that he's dead:

After December 13, 2001, his regularly intercepted messages stopped.

On December 26, 2001, according to "a leading Pakistani newspaper" story, a prominent Taliban official said he attended his funeral.

Bin Laden, in fact, was very ill with kidney disease. In September 2001, CBS News anchor Dan Rather reported that he was admitted to a Rawalpindi, Pakistan hospital on September 10, 2001, and France's Le Figaro said:

"Dubai was the backdrop of a secret meeting between Osama bin Laden and the local CIA agent in July (2001). A partner of the administration of the American Hospital claims that (bin Laden) stayed (there) between the 4th and 14th of July (and) received visits from many members of his family as well as prominent Saudis and Emiratis. (During the same period), the local CIA agent, known to many in Dubai, was seen taking (the hospital's) main elevator (to) bin Laden's room."

Why not if he was a valued asset

In July 2002, "CNN reported that (his) bodyguards had been captured in February of that year, adding: 'Sources believe that if the bodyguards were captured away from bin Laden, it is likely the most wanted man in the world is dead.'"

Finally, despite Washington offering a $25 million reward for information leading to his capture or killing, no one came forward.

(2) Testimonial evidence of his death:

In 2002, influential "people in a position to know" that he died included: -- Pakistan President Musharraf;

-- FBI counterterrorism head Dale Watson;

-- Oliver North saying, "I'm certain that Osama is dead and so are all the other guys I stay in touch with;"

-- Afghanistan President Karzai;

-- Israeli intelligence saying sup-

TALIBAN ATTACK NATO CONVOY

About 90 kilometres from Quetta, Pakistan, Taliban gunmen on motorbikes attacked a NATO convoy of oil tankers, opening fire when the driver ignored the order to stop. All the tankers were set ablaze destroying the NATO oil supplies. Nato supply trucks and oil tankers are frequent targets for the Taliban. Hundreds of tankers and trucks have been destroyed by the Mujahideen.

Plagued by the frequent attacks resulting in huge losses of supplies for coalition troops, the U.S. is increasingly trying to use alternative routes via central Asia.

PALESTINE

The recent 'burying of the hatchet' between the two Palestinian camps, Hamas and PLO, is simply a thin layer plastered over a massive crack. Although both groups are secularists, their differences are extremely wide. The plaster will last for a while.

The PLO is 100% secular to the point of being anti-Islam while Hamas is 90% secular. From the Islamic perspective both groups are traitors to Islam. They are the reflections of the Palestinian masses who, despite their misery of more than half a century, to be precise, 65 years, have not understood the cause of their humiliation and suffering at the hands of the Yahood of Israel. They (the Palestinians), like all other Muslim nations, have severed their bond with the Deen. While 100% the culture of these kuffaar who have been brutalizing them for decades. They are the mental slaves of the western cult of life which the U.S.A. is imposing on all the nations comprising the so-called 'Third World'.

For those who have turned their backs on Islam and are plodding the ways of the kuffaar, the Qur'aan Majeed says: "If Allah helps you, who can defeat you? And, if Allah withholds His aid from you, then who can help you besides Him?"

Allah Ta'ala has withheld His aid from the Palestinians, and even the Arab states who are all the lackeys of the U.S.A., have abandoned them. The objective of hardships in this world is to jolt the errant Muslims into realization. If they fail to heed and derive they raise slogans against America and Israel, they follow lesson, the worldly calamity will then symbolize the Wrath of Allah Azza Wa Jal. Despite all their efforts in the fight against Israel for 65 years, the Palestinians have known nothing but disgrace, defeat and misery. Yet they remain blind. They fail to understand that the misery is the consequence of their gross transgression against the Law of Allah Ta'ala, and that there shall be no solution for them as long as they do not submit to Allah's Shariah.

In addition to being subjugated to Israeli humiliation and debauchery, the punishment of in-fighting has been imposed on them. In Palestine there is no Jihad. A war whose objective is the establishment of Allah's Law is a valid Jihad. A war for the dunya is Satanism, hence Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: "Both the killer and the killed will be in the Fire."

THE NEW KUFR SYSTEM

TUNISIA

THE European Union yesterday welcomed Tunisia's decision to ensure that equal numbers of men and women feature as candidates for July's elections, saying it was a beacon for the region.

A commission planning the constituent assembly vote, a key step after January's ouster of the previous president, decided this week on gender parity among candidates in a system of proportional representation.

Rights groups have welcomed the move as a first in the Arab world.

The names of men and women candidates will feature in alternate places on the lists put to voters. - Sapa-AFP

(The Herald)

The political upheavals in the Arab lands are conflicts of kufr. The one system of kufr is giving way to be substituted with another system of kufr. The engineers steering the new kufr system is the West who has succeeded in mangling the brains of Muslims. Trapped in intellectual slavery of the West, Muslims have renounced Islam. By abrogating the Shariah, they have jettisoned their Imaan and have earned for themselves the Qur'aanic Fatwa of 'kaafiroon, faasiqoon and zaalimoon. Condemning these murtaddeen, the Qur'aan Majeed states:

"Those who do not rule according to that (Shariah) revealed by Allah, verily, they are the kaafiroon."

The immoral disease of 'gender-equality' is a cancer which is expediting the total ruin of the Ummah. Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: "Never ever will prosper a people who assign their affairs to a woman."

TALIBAN ATTACK KANDAHAR

Despite Kandahar, Afghanistan's second city, having been transformed into a garrison city with U.S., Nato and Afghan forces, it has become a frequent target for Taliban attacks. The Taliban venture right into the city centre to launch their attacks against the U.S. and NATO invaders. Reporting on a recent Taliban operation, the BBC News stated:

"Militants have killed six security personnel in an attack on a police training centre near the southern Afghan city of Kandahar, officials say. The insurgents were armed with rocket-propelled grenades and automatic weapons, police said. Afghan forces are frequently targeted by the Taliban and their allies."

Kandahar has experienced some of the worst of the violence in Afghanistan in recent years. The gun battle inside the police training and recruitment centre lasted an hour. A Taliban spokesman said four of their fighters took part in the raid.

Insurgents have blown up an ambulance vehicle full of explosives which killed six members of the national security forces and wounded 10 more. U.S. military helicopters and armoured vehicles were sent in to support the police. Kandahar has seen a number of insurgent attacks on police in recent months. NATO officers acknowledge that progress is "fragile". Police and government officials are still regularly targeted.

In February, 19 people were killed in an assault on the city's police headquarters."

Bin Laden's Death

posed bin Laden messages were fake; and

-- Pakistan's ISI "confirm(ing) the death of... Osama bin Laden (and) attribut(ing) the reasons behind Washington's hiding (the truth) to the desire of (America's hawks) to use the issue of al Qaeda and international terrorism to invade Iraq."

Other evidence includes former CIA case officer Robert Baer telling National Public Radio (NPR): "Of course he's dead."

Then in March 2009, "former Foreign Service officer Angelo Codevilla published an essay in the American Spectator entitled 'Osama bin Elvis,' " saying:

"Seven years after (bin Laden's) last verifiable appearance among the living, there is more evidence of Elvis's presence among us than for his."

Griffin also explained fake messages and videos, saying today's advanced technology can fool experts, but not all of them.

For years, bin Laden tapes surfaced at strategically-timed moments. Consider one on Friday, September 7, 2007 ahead the sixth 9/11 anniversary. Hector Factor's Neal Krawetz, a digital image forensics expert, said it was full of low quality visual and audio splices, a likely fake.

Striking also was bin Laden's beard that was gray in recent images. In this one, it was black. In addition, he was dressed in a white hat and shirt, as well as a yellow sweater, the same attire as on an October 29, 2004 video. Moreover, the background, lighting, desk and camera angle were identical.

Krawetz noted that "if you overlay the 2007 and 2004 videos, bin Laden's face is the same (unaged)."

Only his beard was darker, and the picture contrast was adjusted. Most important are the edits showing obvious splices, at least six video ones in all. Even more audio ones were used that appeared to be words and phrases spliced together, making Krawetz suspect a vocal imitator was used.

A Final Comment

Clear evidence showed bin Laden died years ago, likely in December 2001. However, reporting it was concealed to pursue America's "war on terror."

As a result, "Enemy Number One" was used to stoke fear as pretext for imperial wars on Afghanistan, Iraq, Pakistan, Libya, perhaps others now planned, and numerous proxy ones in Somalia, Yemen, Bahrain, Palestine, Central Africa, Colombia, and elsewhere. Griffin wrote his bin Laden book, hoping to shorten America's wars. He also wished to expose "fake bin Laden tapes (used as) one part of an extensive propaganda operation furthering the militarization of America and its foreign policy" while popular needs go begging.

Obama's latest lie left America's imperial agenda unchanged. In fact, his announcement likely bolsters public support for what's clearly become unpopular, saying:

"(T)hink back to the sense of unity that prevailed on 9/11," urging people to show it again despite how militarism harms their security, well-being and futures by draining funds badly needed for domestic needs.

Instead, expect increasing amounts used for corporate handouts and wars, Obama as uncarving about human needs as extremist Republicans. He's also an inveterate liar. Stephen Lendman lives in Chicago and can be reached at lendmanstephen@sbcglobal.net

AFGHANISTAN – AMERICA'S HELL-HOLE

"They with their coalition cannot fight you except from within fortified barracks and from behind walls. Their internecine animosity is severe. You think that they are united, but their hearts are rent asunder. That is because they are a people without intelligence."

(Qur'aan)

This aayat applies fully to Afghanistan where the forces of the aggressors, the U.S., NATO and their coalition of 40 countries have retreated into the safety of garrison cities and fortified barracks. They have lost the ground war.

Eighty percent of the country is in the control of the Taliban. With its coalition of more than 40 countries, with their huge armies and firepower, they have withdrawn from almost all the outlying bases which they had set up in the early stages of the war. The Taliban have overrun these bases and captured huge amounts of booty. Unable to defend the bases and suffering heavy losses by the repeated Taliban onslaught, the U.S. and Nato have retreated into the cities and have taken refuge in fortified barracks.

The evidence for this is clear. The Taliban is taking the fight right to the cities where the enemy forces with their formidable array of weaponry is located. The Taliban are making repeated attacks on U.S. and Nato fortifications right inside the cities while the enemy no longer pursues the Taliban. The rare 'pursuit' is possible only with a planned operation in which the air force is involved, and which entails pummelling villages and murdering village folk from the air with merciless bombardments in which cluster bombs and other types of chemical bombs are used.

Compliance by all the foreign mobile telephone companies with the Taliban's command to switch off all the services, the daring mass jailbreaks, the repeated attacks on police and army quarters right within cities and the absence of pursuit by the enemy forces, all indicate the Taliban advance and the stagnation of the U.S., Nato and their forces in the hell-quagmire they have created for themselves with their aggression.

From all Jihad groupings, the Taliban stand out conspicuously as Standard-Bearers of Islam. Contrary to what the kuffaar invaders are contending, the Taliban are engaging in a true Shar'i Jihad, pitted against the most powerful militaries of the superpowers. They enjoy huge public backing because they do not indulge in atrocities. On the ground in Afghanistan the populace knows that the Taliban are not the 'demons' painted by the U.S. and the western kuffaar in general. In contrast to the clean battlefield fighting of the Taliban, there is the murder, rapine, torture, pillage and plunder of the U.S.A and its murderous coalition. The murder from the air has reached such proportions that even America's puppet, Kerzai has repeatedly spoken out against the savagery of the U.S. against civilians.

The resilience of the 'rag-tag' Taliban army, their withstanding the murderous onslaught of more than 40 countries together with the full might of the U.S. superpower, and after ten years of intense fighting they are carrying the fight right into the citadels of the aggressors, are truly astonishing. But those whose Faith is grounded and gaze focused on Allah Ta'ala understand well the meaning of the Qur'aanic aayat: "If you aid (the Deen of) Allah,

He will aid you, and plant your feet firmly."

Despite their shortcomings, there is no nation of Muslims today on earth besides the Taliban, who can claim to be the Standard-Bearers of Islam. In their own way, the Taliban are holding aloft the Flag of Islam. The only glimmer of hope concerned members of the Ummah have is the Taliban. In today's world, only they qualify to stand in the shade of the Qur'aanic aayat: "Many were the small groups (the rag-tag armies) who vanquished large armies with the permission of Allah."

Decisions are made in the Heavens, not on earth. Allah Ta'ala states in the Qur'aan Shareef: "Verily, the earth belongs to only Allah. He bestows it (its control) to whomever He wills." While the world of the western kuffaar have succeeded in swamping and subjugating the entire Muslim world, they have, by Allah's grace, miserably failed to subdue the Taliban. On the contrary they find themselves in a situation of Hell from which it has become excruciatingly difficult to extricate themselves. May Allah Ta'ala destroy the enemy and grant the Taliban a resounding victory. The least every Muslim can offer the Taliban, is continuous dua.

OSAMA AND AFGHANISTAN

In the Jihad equation in Afghanistan, Osama Bin Laden was of little significance even in his heyday. Osama has never been the architect of Jihad in Afghanistan. For centuries, the Afghans themselves held their ground and fought off all the kuffaar invaders. Osama exercised no influence whatsoever on the Taliban. On the contrary, Osama and all foreigners who entered the Jihad theatre in Afghanistan had to operate with the sanction of the Taliban. In fact, the Salafi Arabs who joined the Jihad in Afghanistan were not allowed to propagate Salafi'ism in Afghanistan as they did in Bosnia, Chechniya and wherever they had participated in Jihad.

The Taliban are the staunchest followers of the Hanafi Math-hab. They do not tolerate freelancers in the Deen. When they first came to power, they promptly closed down the training camp of Lashkar-e-Taibah because this group was ghair muqallid.

While the Arab brothers operated their Jihad camp in Afghanistan, they had no impact on the Taliban. The Taliban are fiercely independent. Even while currently accepting aid from Pakistan via the Intelligence agency, and massive aid from the U.S.A. during the fight to expel the Russians, the Afghan Mujahideen were extremely reluctant to submit to the methods of training offered by Pakistan's military personnel. Despite their illiteracy, they quickly learnt to handle expertly the most sophisticated weapons, be it of any kind. Brigadier Mohammed Yousuf of the Pakistani ISI, who was intimately involved with the Mujahideen and who planned their operations in the Jihad against the Soviet Union, writes in his book, The Bear Trap: "I well remember a visit by Mr. Casey (Wilson Casey, the Director of C.I.A.) to some of our training camps in 1986. In all, three camps were visited and the CIA delegation was most curious in its questioning of trainees. One senior US official, who spoke Pushtun, repeatedly asked individual Mujahideen at random how long had they been on the course. Had they ever been in the Afghan Army? Had they ever fired these weapons before in Afghanistan? The truth was that they had all been under training for eight days, and yet they were firing heavy machine guns, mortars, RPG-7s, and recoilless rifles with the confidence and accuracy of experienced soldiers. Casey was most impressed. At dinner with President Zia that night he expressed his admiration for the high standards achieved in such a short time. Within a month Zia came to see for himself. He too was amazed by what he saw, and as good as accused me of selecting the best shots to demonstrate the weapons. I told him he could select anybody to fire, as what he had seen was the average standard. He declined to do so, but at the end of the day he remarked: "I only wish our Army had half this standard of shooting." We had no need for American instructors."

Osama's influence extended only in the camp of the Arab Mujahideen. After the collapse of the Taliban government, Osama simply disappeared from even the Arab scene and had hardly any relationship with the Jihad in Afghanistan. The Pakistani and U.S.A. intelligence agencies are more apprized of what Osama's status was in Afghanistan than anyone else. His image was being manipulated perniciously for sinister designs and in the furtherance of America's global conspiracies. In short, Osama was America's bogeyman to perpetuate the lousy, brutal and false 'war on terror'. He was the perfect phantom propelled on to the world stage for the consumption of donkey masses, in particular the American public.

YOUR DEEDS ARE YOUR RULERS

Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: "In every age, Allah Ta'ala raises a king (ruler/government) according to the hearts of the inhabitants. If He intends goodness for them, He appoints a just ruler, and when He intends their destruction, He imposes a tyrant over them."

THE MASSIVE DECEPTION AND FRAUD OF HIS CAPTURE AND KILLING

en was shot in the head. After this first shot, he was shot again, to make sure that he was dead. The body was then flown to Afghanistan and Bin Laden's identity was confirmed.

The US has also claimed that no one in the Muslim world was prepared to accept the body of Osama. Both claims are blatant lies. The one report released by US authorities say that the body was dumped in the Arabian sea. The other report states the Indian Ocean. Almost the entire Muslim world would have been prepared to accept his body. But the US could make no such request because there simply was no body of Osama. Osama had died years ago and was buried in some unmarked grave in Afghanistan as is the normal practice for burying the Shuhada (Martyrs) in Afghanistan.

(2) The US claims that Osama was captured after a 'fire fight'. He was shot once, then again a second time to 'ensure' he was dead. The 12 year old daughter of Osama has allegedly said that she was present when her unarmed father was killed by US forces. The Daily News of Pakistan contradicting the US claim that its 'Seals' had tried to capture Osama alive, but killed him when he resisted, said that US forces killed Osama within the first few minutes of the midnight operation. The US, however, has also said that Osama was 'unarmed'. Yet they have no clear explanation why he was 'killed' when he was unarmed.

So many lies have emanated from the US government, that amendments were being made to the original story within hours. There is not a stitch of evidence to prove that a raid had taken place on the alleged hideout of Osama in the military cantonment 'city' of Abbottabad.

(3) The alleged hideout is located inside a Pakistani military cantonment. It is a virtual military barracks. The 'hideout' house was in close proximity to Pakistan's top military academy. The place teems with military personnel, army generals, etc. . The design of the supposed 'hideout' was not different from numerous houses in Abbottabad, including the high walls and barbed wire. How was it possible for the world's most wanted man with a $25 million award on his head to have lived and concealed himself for a decade in the heart of Pakistan's elite military barracks without the huge US, and Pakistan's ISI and the many other security establishment having the faintest idea?

(4) A reporter in London wrote: "Almost as strange as the location of Bin Laden's final sanctuary was the scant evidence of fighting during the raid. The house appears untouched by violence. A cypress and a maple grow in the garden, but not a leaf out of place. Beyond the compound walls potatoes and cabbages spring from allotment fields uncrushed by soldiers' boots. Dagga plants burst from the verges in reckless abandon, adding to the sense of bucolic tranquillity. From the outside at least, the aftermath of the historic struggle in house 254 appears chronically underwhelming and quite uncanny."

These facts - the lies emanating from America, the surreptitious dumping or alleged dumping of a 'donkey's' body into an unknown sea so secretly, leaving no evidence whatsoever of the world's most hunted, most dangerous 'terrorist', to soothe the palates of a public with donkey mentality in the US, and the glaring discrepancies, all indicate that there was no raid by the American cowboys, and no Bin Laden at House No.254. It is inconceivable that a man wanted so much as Osama, could ever have been at the most inconceivable place.

Dr.Paul Craig Roberts, the former Assistant Secretary of the Treasury during President Reagan's term, and also an editor of the Wall Street Journal, writes about the alleged raid: "No explanation has been provided for why an unarmed Bin Laden, in the absence of a fire fight, was murdered by the SEALs with a shot to the head. For those who believe the government's story that "we got bin Laden", the operation can only appear to be the most botched operation in history. What kind of incompetence does it require to senselessly and needlessly kill the most valuable intelligence asset on the planet?"

Debunking the palpably false story of the U.S.A., Dr.Craig says: "The White House has also had to abandon the story that President Obama and his national security team watched tensely as events unfolded in real time (despite the White House having released photos of the team watching tensely), with the operation conveyed into the White House by cameras on the Seals' helmets. If Obama was watching the event as it happened, he would have noticed, one would hope, that there was no fire fight and, thus, would not have told the public that bin Laden was killed in a fire fight. Another reason the story had to be abandoned is that if the event was captured on video, every news service in the world would be asking for the video, but if the event was orchestrated theatre, then would be no video."

"The fire fight story was instantly suspicious as not a single SEAL got a scratch, despite being up against al-Qaeda, described by former Pentagon chief Donald Rumsfeld as "the most dangerous, best-trained, vicious killers on the face of the planet." Carney blamed the changed story on "the fog of war". But there was no fire fight, so where did "the fog of war" come from?"

Continuing, Dr.Paul Craig says: "When such a foundational story as the demise of bin Laden cannot last 48 hours without acknowledged "discrepancies" that require fundamental alterations to the story, there are grounds for suspicion in addition to the suspicions arising from the absence of a dead body, from the absence of any evidence that bin Laden was killed in the raid or that a raid even took place. The entire episode could just be another event like the August 4, 1964, Gulf of Tonkin event that never happened but succeeded in launching open warfare against North Vietnam at a huge cost to Americans.....Who can believe that the US would quickly dispose of the evidence that bin Laden had been terminated? The government's story is not believable that the government dumped the proof of its success into the ocean, but has some photos that might be released someday."

Another self-contradiction by Obama is his claim that the reason for not releasing the photos of the 'killed' Osama was that it is too 'gruesome' and that it would be inflammatory to release it. Yet Obama first claimed that Bin Laden was killed by a single shot in his head. How did a single bullet render the 'corpse gruesome' to prevent its publication - a publication which would give credence to the American story? Writing in the Herald, reporter Stephen Collinson says: "Obama will be aware that the publication of a picture of a dead Bin Laden would lay to rest any conspiracy theories in the wider world that Washington somehow faked his killing.US enemies are already beginning to cast doubt on Washington's word, questioning Bin Laden's death for propaganda purposes."

Since there was no dead Bin Laden, Obama could not publish a picture of his corpse.

What then is the dark motive of the US for having resurrected Bin Laden in this childish manner conspicuous for its puerility, clumsiness and incompetency? They (the US plotters) were just as childish and stupid when they perpetrated the massive treachery of blowing up their own World Trade Centre and laying the blame on Osama who was living in the mountains of Afghanistan. The vile agenda was to create justification for the invasion of Afghanistan.

The sinister agenda underlying the clumsy resurrection of Bin Laden is almost certainly to give Obama's plunging ratings a massive injection of donkey-public support. Fearing defeat in the forthcoming elections, Obama and his clique of pirates were desperate for something spectacular. They are fully aware that Osama had died years ago, hence they felt confident to manipulate his death in order to resurrect him in pursuance of their sinister objective. But, the plot was executed too clumsily. The veneer is too thin and cannot conceal the muck and the fraud. Even the CIA had several years ago said that they "had managed to get the names of some of the medications bin Laden is taking" and they concluded that he was dying of kidney failure.

It is inconceivable that Osama was hiding inside the headquarters of Pakistan's military organization, a 100 metres from Pakistan's top military academy, without the military and the intelligence agency being aware thereof. Besides the local intelligence agencies, the place is also covered by the CIA, FBI and other murky outfits such as the U.S.A.'s mercenary murderers, e.g. Blackwater, etc.

If the Pakistani intelligence agency which works closely with its US counterparts had captured Osama and was detaining him, then too, it is not at all feasible to believe that they would keep him in an unguarded house in the elite military area of Abbottabad. It is also highly improbable that the ISI was playing a double game, protecting Osama right within their midst so flagrantly. There is no dearth of American black torture centres in Pakistan, Afghanistan and elsewhere where Osama would have been shipped to.

The question remains: Why did the US and Pakistan select the military cantonment area for the fake raid. The simple answer is: They just had no other safe place for staging a fake operation. The military personnel in the cantonment could be relied on to maintain silence whereas in any other area, the people would speak up and inform that there was no such raid in their locality. The US claims that a helicopter carrying its stupid SEALs landed in the backyard of the house, and after the 'raid' the US team, before departing detonated and destroyed the helicopter. All of this rubbish happening in the army barracks without the military, intelligence agencies and others having the slightest awareness. The lies are too clumsy and too contradictory to believe anything that emanates from the US government and the security agencies of Napakistan (the Impure Land of treachery and traitors).

The preposterousness of this saga of deceit and deception prompted a businessman, Jehangir Khan who is a close neighbour of house No.254, the alleged 'hideout house', to say: "He just could not have lived here among us. Its impossible. He was a huge man hunted by the world. Why would he have chosen to live here, in a military restricted area, so close to the academy and to so many barracks, without proper security detail of his own?"

Commenting on these questions, Anthony Loyd a reporter in London writes: "These are the questions now haunting Pakistan's government and intelligence agencies. Despite top-level denials of collusion in giving sanctuary to al-Qaeda's founder, the country's authorities are nevertheless struggling to explain how the terrorist chief and mass murderer lived unmolested alongside the stalwarts of their security establishment. Many Pakistanis have simply elected to disbelieve that Bin Laden had lived and died among them."

A local 'anti-terrorist' commando on a nearby rooftop commented: "I can't believe that he was here." Police officers, government officials and the people in general all reject the idea that Osama was living in house No.254, that there had been a raid and that he was killed there.

The house resembles many other houses in the areas and is quite different from the 'reinforced stronghold' described by the US liars in Washington.

It was also claimed about the house: "That gate remained closed almost 24 hours a day. Just occasionally I used to see one man come out, driving a car with tinted windows. We heard that the family who owned it were involved in a feud with another tribe near Peshawar, and had come here to escape. It explained how careful and hidden they were."

Another person said: "Two more vehicles, a Toyota Corolla and a minibus, sometimes emerging from the green gates. The people within remained more or less hermetically sealed from the community around them. The men never prayed with us or shared any celebration or worry. They bought their supplies elsewhere."

This furtive setting and aura of intrigue enveloping house 254 were the perfect ingredients to attract the attention of the security and military apparatus. It is inconceivable that despite all the suspicion surrounding the house with the logical consequences of rumour and gossip which generally accompany this type of scenario, the intelligence agencies of Pakistan and the U.S.A. and the military under whose nose Osama allegedly lived for a decade and conducted his so-called 'international terrorism' activities, had remained blissfully ignorant and unaware. It is pure lies compounded with more lies. How is it ever possible to believe what Pakistan's Intelligence officers are now saying, namely: "The Inter-Services Intelligence (ISI) agency had no idea Bin Laden was holed up here despite having searched the compound of house 254 in 2003." In addition to the baboon and donkeys in the U.S.A., there are numerous similar asses and baboons in Pakistan as well. Perhaps, and it is a remote possibility, that the donkeys and apes of Napakistan may swallow this rubbish explanation. Even the senior counter-terrorism official in the U.S.A. commented that it was "inconceivable" that Osama had lived in that house without enjoying "support network" in Pakistan. Yes, that is so if Osama was in fact living there. But high profile brains are not a requisite for dismissing the Lie of the century – a lie just as stupendous as the lie that Osama had engineered the destruction of the World Trade Centre buildings.

OBAMA'S RUBBISH RESPECT FOR MUSLIM RITES

Commenting on the massive lie spoken by the inveterate Murtad, Obama, on the reason for dumping a donkey into the ocean in Osama's name, author Lin Dinh, writes: "Less than six hours after news came that he had been killed, it was announced that Bin Laden had already been buried at sea.. The official explanation: The US must respect the Islamic tradition that a corpse be buried within 24 hours, and since no country was willing to be his final host, not even Saudi Arabia, his homeland, Bin Laden had to be dumped where he could never be exhumed. How convenient. Case closed!

Such respect for a Muslim corpse from a country that seems to be fighting Muslims everywhere; that kills, imprisonments and tortures Muslims, whose soldiers draped panties and smeared excreta on Muslim heads, raped Muslim women and collected Muslim ears as trophies. (And flushed Qur'aan copies down toilet drains, and who recently burnt Qur'aans—Al-Haq) America hasn't exactly been shy about abusing Muslims, dead or alive, so why the sudden delicacy? Remember also that Uday and Qusay Husein (Saddam Hussein's sons) were killed by American troops on July 22, 2003, then buried on August 2, 11 days later.The bloody crooks (i.e. Obama & Clique) hustling us must be incredulous, if not laughing uproariously, at what they can get away with in this nation of suckers." (Yes, the nation of donkeys – Americans! – Al-Haq)

AFGHANISTAN
US urged to condemn burning of Koran AFGHAN President Hamid Karzai called yesterday for the US Congress to condemn the March 20 burning of a Koran by a radical US pastor Terry Jones and prevent it from happening again, his office said in a statement. Two policemen were killed and more than 30 people wounded in Kandahar yesterday during the third day of violent protests across Afghanistan against the burning of the Koran. Violence at earlier demonstrations claimed more than 20 lives.

The Times 4/4/11

When Obama and his gang of pirates could not bring themselves to even verbally condemn this heinous desecration of the Qur'aan Majeed, what credence can any one accord to the massive LIE and FRAUD about respecting the corpse of a Muslim who has been accused of the 'mass murder of 3000 Americans'?

friend and no helper for you (O Mu'mineen!).

(Baqarah, aayat 107)

"Say: O Allah! The Sovereign of the World! You grant sovereignty (political power) to whomever You wish, and you snatch away sovereignty from whomever You wish. You grant honour to whomever You wish and You disgrace whomever You wish. In Your Hand is goodness. Verily, You have power over all things." (Aal-e-Imraan, aayat 26)

In Egypt for example, the ostensible people of the Deen are the Ikhwaanul Muslimeen (Muslim Brotherhood). However, they are dictated to by political expediency. Spiritually they too are barren and plod a path of liberal 'Islam'. Thus, in their understanding it has become expedient and proper to link hands with the hooligans shouting for democracy. Since the trust is not on Allah Azza Wa Jal, the Ikhwaanul Muslimeen has gone with the wind. They sway from one extreme to the other. The masses are baying in a haraam manner for blood, hence it has become convenient to bow to the whims, fancies and kufr political concept of the barbarians who are egged on by the master conspirator, the U.S.A. who will be overseeing the transition of one system of kufr to another system. What! Are you searching for the law of Jaahiliyyah?" (Qur'aan)

THE TYRANTS ARE OUR PUNISHMENT

Hadhrat Abu Darda (radhiyallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallahu alayhi wasallam) said:

"Verily, Allah Ta'ala says: 'I am Allah, besides Whom there is no deity, but Me. I am the King of kings. The hearts of kings are in My Hands. When people obey Me, I turn the hearts of the kings towards them with mercy and affection. When people disobey Me, I turn the hearts of kings with wrath and tyranny towards them. Then they (the rulers) inflict terrible tyranny on them (the people). Therefore do not (waste your time by) engaging in the invocation of curses on the rulers. Rather, involve yourselves with thikr, and humility so that I protect you against (the tyranny) of your rulers."

All the tyrannical and oppressive rulers in all the Muslim lands mirror the oppression and tyranny of the various Muslim nations – the tyranny and oppression on the Deen of Allah Ta'ala. A corrupt Ummah who has desecrated the Qur'aan and the Sunnah worse than the desecration of the kuffaar who had flushed the Qur'aan Majeed down the toilet and who had burnt the Qur'aan Shareef, does not deserve just and

The U.S. economy is dying and we are heading for the next Great Depression. The talking heads in the mainstream media love to spin the economic numbers around and around and they love to make it sound like the economy is improving, but the truth is that it doesn't take a genius to see what is happening to the U.S. economic system. All over the nation many of our greatest cities are being slowly but surely transformed into post-apocalyptic wastelands.

All over the mid-Atlantic, all along the Gulf coast, all throughout the "rust belt" and all over the entire state of California cities that once had incredibly vibrant economies are being turned into rotting, post-industrial hellholes. In many U.S. cities, the "real" rate of unemployment is over 30 percent. There are some communities that will start depressing you almost the moment that you drive into them. It is almost as if all of the hope has been sucked right out of those communities. If you live in one of those American hellholes you know what I am talking about. Sadly, it is not just a few cities that are becoming hellholes. This is happening in the east, in the west, in the north and in the south. America is literally being transformed right in front of our eyes. If you still live in an area of the United States that is prosperous, do not mock the cities that you are about to read about. The cold, hard reality of the matter is that economic decline and economic despair are spreading rapidly and they will come to your area soon enough. Right now we are still talking about "American hellholes", but if the long-term economic trends that are destroying this nation are not turned around eventually we will just be talking about one gigantic "American hellhole". In the end, no area of the country will completely escape the economic hell that is coming.

Let's take a closer look at what is currently happening in some of the worst areas of the country....

Detroit, Michigan

In the city of Detroit today, there are over 33,000 abandoned houses, 70 schools are being permanently closed down, the mayor wants to bulldoze one-fourth of the city and you can literally buy a house for one dollar in the worst areas.

During the boom days of the 1950s, Detroit was ateming metropolis of approximately 2 million people, but today the current population is less than half that. The city of Detroit, once a shining example of middle class America, is now a rotting cesspool of economic decline and it actually saw its population decline by 25 percent during the decade that recently ended. According to the U.S. Census Bureau, Detroit lost a resident every 22 minutes between the years of 2000 and 2010.

So why are people leaving Detroit so rapidly?

There simply are no jobs.

At the height of the economic downturn, the mayor of Detroit admitted that while the "official" unemployment rate in Detroit was about 27 percent, the "real" unemployment rate in his city was actually somewhere around 50 percent.

Since there are not enough jobs, that also means that not enough tax money is coming in. Detroit is essentially insolvent at this point.

Detroit officials are trying to implement some austerity measures in a desperate attempt to get city finances under control.

For example, the state of Michigan recently granted approval to a plan that would shut down nearly half of the public schools in Detroit. Under the plan, 70 schools will be closed and 72 will continue operating.

It has been estimated that the remaining public schools will have class sizes of up to 60 students.

Detroit Mayor Dave Bing also wants to cut off 20 percent of the entire city from police and trash services in order to save money.

Essentially that would mean abandoning 20 percent of the city of Detroit to the gangs and to the homeless.

The mayor of Detroit has also discussed a plan in which authorities would bulldoze one-fourth of the city in order to save money on services.

So with all of this going on, is Detroit a pleasant place to live at this point? No way.

Today, Detroit is considered to be the third most violent city in the United States.

In fact, crime has gotten so bad and the citizens are so frustrated by the lack of police assistance that they have resorted to forming their own organizations to fight back. One group, known as "Detroit 300", was formed after a 90-year-old woman on Detroit's northwest side was brutally raped in August.

If you want to see what the future of America looks like, just take a few hours and go driving through Detroit some time. But please only do this during the day. Do not do this at night. Detroit is not a safe place anymore, and you cannot count on the police to help you in a timely manner. Detroit was once one of the greatest cities in the world.

But today it is an absolute hellhole.

Camden, New Jersey

So is there any place in America that is worse than Detroit?

Well, many would nominate Camden, New Jersey.

Many years ago, Camden was actually thriving and prosperous. But today the city of Camden is known as "the second most dangerous city in America".

In a recent article entitled "City of Ruins", Chris Hedges did an amazing job of documenting the horrific decline of Camden. Hedges estimates that the real rate of unemployment in Camden is somewhere around 30 to 40 percent, and he makes it sound like nobody in their right mind would want to live there now....

Camden is where those discarded as human refuse are dumped, along with the physical refuse of postindustrial America. A sprawling sewage treatment plant on forty acres of riverfront land processes 58 million gallons of wastewater a day for Camden County. The stench of sewage lingers in the streets. There is a huge trash-burning plant that releases noxious clouds, a prison, a massive cement plant and mountains of scrap metal feeding into a giant shredder. The city is scarred with several thousand decaying abandoned row houses; the skeletal remains of windowless brick factories and gutted gas stations; overgrown vacant lots filled with garbage and old tires; neglected, weed-filled cemeteries; and boarded-up store fronts.

Gangs have stepped into the gaping void left by industry. In Camden today, drugs and prostitution are two of the only viable businesses left - especially for those who cannot find employment anywhere else. The following is how Hedges describes the current state of affairs....

There are perhaps a hundred open-air drug markets, most run by gangs like the Bloods, the Latin Kings, Los Nietos and MS-13. Knots of young men in black leather jackets and baggy sweatshirts sell weed and crack to clients, many of whom drive in from the suburbs. The drug trade is one of the city's few thriving businesses. A weapon, police say, is never more than a few feet away, usually stashed behind a trash can, in the grass or on a porch.

But before we all start judging Camden for being such a horrible place to live, it is important to realize that this is happening in communities from coast to coast. All over the United States industries are leaving and deep social decay is setting in.

Even the criminals in Camden are struggling. Things have gotten so bad in Camden, New Jersey that not even the drug dealers are spending their money anymore.

So where are the police?

Unfortunately, there is very little money for police. Authorities in Camden recently decided to lay off half of the city police force.

So now the gangs and the drug dealers have more room to operate.

Sadly, this is not just happening in Camden. It is happening all over New Jersey.

Of 315 municipalities the New Jersey State Police union recently surveyed, more than half indicated that they were planning to lay off police officers.

So why doesn't the state government step in and help out?

Well, the state of New Jersey is in such bad shape that they still are facing a $10 billion budget deficit for this year even after cutting a billion dollars from the education budget and laying off thousands of teachers.

New Jersey also has $46 billion in unfunded pension liabilities and $65 billion in unfunded health care liabilities. Nobody is quite sure how New Jersey is even going to come close to meeting those obligations.

Meanwhile, cities like Camden are rotting a little bit more every single day.

New Orleans, Louisiana

New Orleans had a struggling economy even before Hurricane Katrina struck back in 2005. But that event changed everything. It is now almost 6 years later and virtually the entire region is still a disaster zone.

New Orleans permanently lost 29% of its population after Hurricane Katrina. There are many areas of New Orleans that still look as if they have just been bombed.

21.5 percent of all houses in New Orleans, Louisiana are currently standing vacant. Many of those homes will never be inhabited again.

What made things even worse for New Orleans (and for residents all along the Gulf coast) was the horrific BP oil spill last year. The mainstream news does not talk about the oil spill much anymore, but those living in the area have to deal with the effects every single day.

Some of the industries in the Gulf region were really starting to recover from Hurricane Katrina but the BP oil spill put a stop to that.

Before the oil spill, Louisiana produced more fish and seafood than anywhere in the United States except for Alaska. But now the seafood industry has been absolutely devastated. It has been estimated that the cost of the BP

“For every nation there is an appointed time. Thus, when their appointed time (of demise) arrives, they will not be able to delay it (their final ruin and demise) by a moment nor advance it.”

(A’raaf, aayat 34)

Allah’s chastisement comes in a variety of forms. Sometimes it is swift, and sometimes gradual. It appears that the latter form of athaab is consuming the U.S.A. before its final collapse and demise. Just as the Soviet Union had collapsed ‘suddenly’ so too will be the fate of the American aggressor. While the final moment will appear sudden and swift, the process of the demise is inaugurated well oil spill to the fishing industry in Louisiana alone could top 3 billion dollars.

Some local shrimpers in the region are projecting that it will be about seven years before they can set to sea again.

New Orleans keeps trying to bounce back from all of these disasters, but times are tough down there.

Today, New Orleans is the 13th most violent city in America. That is actually an improvement. Before Katrina New Orleans had even more violent crime.

The truth is that other areas along the Gulf coast are doing a lot worse than New Orleans is doing. A ton of big corporate money has flowed into New Orleans. Officials are trying to clean up the city and make it a huge tourist destination once again.

But in the surrounding areas things are not looking so bright. There are areas along the coasts of Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama and the panhandle of Florida that are some of the most depressing places in the nation. It is almost as if there are hundreds of thousands of people that time forgot. In some rural areas along the Gulf coast the poverty is absolutely mind blowing. There are very few jobs and there is very little hope. Meanwhile, large numbers of people in the region continue to get sick from the toxic dispersants used to clean up the oil spill.

Let us hope that we don't see another major disaster in the Gulf of Mexico any time soon. As it is, it is going to take decades for that region to fully recover. There are a lot of really good people that live down there, and they deserve our prayers.

Vallejo, California (And Virtually The Rest Of The State Of California)

Almost the entire state of California is an economic disaster zone. Austerity measures are being implemented in city after city as tax revenues have nosedived.

The following is an excerpt from a recent New York Times article that describes the brutal austerity that has been implemented in Vallejo, California....

Vallejo is still in bankruptcy. The police force has shrunk from 153 officers to 92. Calls for any but the most serious crimes go unanswered. Residents who complain about prostitutes or vandals are told to fill out a form. Three of the city's firehouses were closed. Last summer, a fire ravaged a house in one of the city's better neighborhoods; one of the firetrucks came from another town, 15 miles away. Is this America's future?

Sadly, that is what the future of America is going to look like. Public services are being slashed all over the nation due to budget crunches. Unless there is a major jobs recovery, the situation in California is going to continue to degenerate. The truth is that the state of California needs millions and millions of new jobs just to get back to "normal". For example, near the end of last year it was reported that 24.3 percent of the residents of El Centro, California were unemployed. Not only that, as of the end of last year the number of people unemployed in the state of California was approximately equivalent to the entire populations of Nevada, New Hampshire and Vermont combined.

Businesses are closing in California at an astounding pace. At one point last year it was reported that in the area around Sacramento, California there was one closed business for every six that were still open.

As a result of all of this, home prices in many areas of California have completely fallen off a cliff. For example, the average home in Merced, California has declined in value by 63 percent over the past four years.

California also had more foreclosure filings that any other U.S. state in 2010. The 546,669 total foreclosure filings during the year means that over 4 percent of all the housing units in the state of California received a foreclosure filing at some point during 2010.

Sadly, things don't look like they are going to turn around in California any time soon. Forbes recently compiled a list entitled "Cities Where The Economy May Get Worse".

Six of the top seven spots were held by cities in California.

California is becoming a very frightening place. When you combine high unemployment with unchecked illegal immigration what you get is rampant poverty.

20 percent of the residents of Los Angeles County are now receiving public aid of one form or another.

In particular, the number of children that are considered to be in need of public assistance is truly scary.

Incredibly, 60 percent of all the students attending California public schools now qualify for free or reduced-price school lunches.

Poverty and illegal immigration have also caused a tremendous health care crisis in the state. The hordes of illegal aliens taking advantage of "free" medical care at hospital emergency rooms have caused dozens of hospitals across the state of California to completely shut down. As a result, the state of California now ranks dead last out of all 50 states in the number of emergency rooms per million people.

The bozos in Sacramento keep passing hundreds of new laws in an attempt to "fix" the state, but the truth is that for the poorest residents of the state all of those new laws don't make a shred of difference.

The following is how Victor Davis Hansen describes what he saw during his recent tour of the "forgotten areas of central California"....

Many of the rural trailer-house compounds I saw appear to the naked eye no different from what I have seen in the Third World . There is a Caribbean look to the junked cars, electric wires crisscrossing between various outbuildings, plastic tarps substituting for replacement shingles, lean-tos cobbled together as auxiliary housing, pit bulls unleashed, and geese, goats, and chickens roaming around the yards. The public hears about all sorts of tough California regulations that stymie business - rigid zoning laws, strict building codes, constant inspections - but apparently none of that applies out here.

Hansen also says that he observed that people in these areas are doing whatever they can to get by....

At crossroads, peddlers in a counter-California economy sell almost anything. Here is what I noticed at an intersection on the west side last week: shovels, rakes, hoes, gas pumps, lawnmowers, edgers, blowers, jackets, gloves, and caps. The merchandise was all new. I doubt whether in high-tax California sales taxes or income taxes were paid on any of these stop-and-go transactions.

In two supermarkets 50 miles apart, I was the only one in line who did not pay with a social-service plastic card (gone are the days when "food stamps" were embarrassing bulky coupons).

Are you frightened yet?

You know what they say - "as goes California, so goes the nation".

What is happening in California now is eventually going to come to your area.

Right now California is also having a huge problem with gangs. Gang violence in America is getting totally out of control. According to authorities, there are now over 1 million members of criminal gangs operating inside the country, and those gangs are responsible for up to 80% of the violent crimes committed in the U.S. each year.

But instead of ramping up to fight crime and fight illegal immigration, police forces all over California are being cut back.

For example, because of extreme budget cuts and police layoffs, Oakland, California Police Chief Anthony Batts has announced that there are a number of crimes that his department simply will no longer respond to due to a lack of resources. The following is a partial list of the crimes that police officers in Oakland will no longer be responding to....

- * burglary
- * theft
- * embezzlement
- * grand theft
- * grand theft: dog
- * identity theft
- * false information to peace officer
- * required to register as sex or arson offender
- * dump waste or offensive matter
- * loud music
- * possess forged notes
- * pass fictitious check
- * obtain money by false voucher
- * fraudulent use of access cards

- * stolen license plate
- * embezzlement by an employee
- * extortion
- * attempted extortion
- * false personification of other
- * injure telephone/power line
- * interfere with power line
- * unauthorized cable tv connection
- * vandalism

Not that Oakland wasn't already a mess before all this, but now how long do you think it will be before total chaos and anarchy reigns on the streets of Oakland?

Today, Oakland is considered the 5th most violent city in the United States. Will it soon become the most violent? But Oakland is not the only major California city that is facing these kinds of issues.

Things have gotten so bad in Stockton, California that the police union put up a billboard with the following message: "Welcome to the 2nd most dangerous city in California. Stop laying off cops."

Already the police force in Stockton has been stripped down to almost nothing.

A while back, the Stockton Police Department dropped this bombshell....

"We absolutely do not have any narcotics officers, narcotics sergeants working any kind of investigative narcotics type cases at this point in time." Do you think drug dealers will be flocking to Stockton after they hear that?

California was once the envy of the world.

Now it is becoming one gigantic hellhole.

During one recent 23 year period, the state of California built 23 prisons but just one university.

So is there any hope for California? No, unfortunately there is not.

In another article, I wrote about some of the reasons why millions of people have been leaving California for good....

Meanwhile, the standard of living in California is going right into the toilet. Housing values are plummeting. Unemployment has risen above 20 percent in many areas of the state. Crime and gang activity is on the rise even as police budgets are being hacked to the bone. The health care system is an absolute disaster. At this point California has the fewest emergency rooms per million people out of all 50 states. While all of this has been going on, the state legislature in Sacramento has been very busy passing hundreds of new laws that are mostly about promoting one radical agenda or another. The state government has become so radically anti-business that it is a wonder that any businesses have remained in the state. It seems like the moving vans never stop as an endless parade of businesses and families leave California as quickly as they can.

But this is not just a "California thing". The truth is that what is happening in California, in Detroit, in Camden and in hundreds of other before. This gradual and incremental process of destruction is termed in the Qur'aan Majeed 'alat takhawwuf'. Referring to this gradual, but incremental punishment, the Qur'aan Majeed states:

"Do those who indulge in evil conspiracies (such as the U.S.A.) feel confident that Allah will not cause the earth to swallow them (with earthquakes), or overtake them with a punishment from unexpected quarters (tornadoes, tsunamis, etc.)? Or that He will seize them (while they are engrossed) in their (day to day) activities? Then they will be unable to escape. Or that He will seize them by degrees (of punishment which will gradually eliminate them)?"

This last form of gradual elimination is of the alat-takhawwuf kind. Even Hadhrat Umar (radhiyallahu anhu) was baffled by the term alat-takhawwuf until a member of another tribe explained the meaning of the word which belonged to their dialect.

The gradual punishment comes in different forms and gnaws at the entire body of the nation. Its foundations gradually become hollow by the constant nibbling, until there is the sudden, disastrous collapse. America is currently being hit on all fronts by disasters, hence the U.S.A. in desperation behaves like an insane person. Financially, the U.S.A. is in total bankruptcy. This is the primary motive for initiating wars in so many places on earth. Unable to manufacture fresh supplies of weapons due to lack of funds, the U.S.A. is slowly depleting its massive stockpile and stretching its military to the limits.

Despite American forces in Afghanistan begging for more armoured vehicles, the U.S.A. is unable to fulfil their demands. They are required to make-do with what they have. There is considerable discontent among the disgruntled soldiers for lack of adequate equipment. The primary motive for the wars is to steal and pirate off the natural resources, mainly oil, of the Arab and Asian lands. The invasion of the Iraq has given the U.S.A. a vast reservoir from which to steal billions of dollars. While America keeps the antagonists occupied with mutual fighting, it is busy siphoning off the oil. But, all the stolen wealth of other nations will not be able to bolster the crumbling U.S.A. Not only has its economy crumbled, the entire fabric of its life is in an advanced stage of crumbling and rotting. The article appearing in these pages, is truly revealing of the corrupt state of American society and cities, from one end of the country to the other.

Economic bankruptcy, the staggering crime rate, ruin of cities, massive unemployment, tornadoes (recently 21 states were devastated), huge fires, the massive oil spill, the billions of dollars annually spent in the wars of oppression, etc. are all ingredients in the gradual process of divine chastisement which will ultimately bring about the total ruin and collapse of the U.S.A. cardboard empire. But, stupid people with donkey mentality never learn from history: No empire ever endures forever.

KASHMIR

Kashmir is the twin sister of Palestine in the disaster which have afflicted them. Both commenced their journeys of misery more or less in the same historical eras. For more than three decades anarchy has reigned Kashmir in the name of Jihad. The struggle in Kashmir is not a valid Jihad. Kashmir is Pakistan's proxy. The war there has been directed right from the beginning by the Intelligence Agency of Pakistan, and the objective is nothing more than to keep India's army bogged down in a quagmire.

Pakistan is an impure, kufr state which has no relationship with Islam. It is Pakistan's Intelligence Agency (ISI) that has been directing the so-called Kahsmiri 'Jihad' right from the inception. There has never been an Islamic agenda. The objective is not to establish an Islamic state in Kashmir. Pakistan itself has become Napakistan (The Impure Land) with its elimination of the Shariah and enslavement to western kufr concepts.

For more than 60 years has the anarchy in Kashmir been perpetuated under the guise of 'Jihad'. Even the Ulama in Pakistan whilst fully aware of ISI's kufr involvement, and that it was this evil force directing the entire farcical 'jihad', from beginning to end, became the victims of propaganda and proclaimed the anarchy to be Jihad.

Only a war whose objective is nothing short of I'laa-e-

Kalimatullaah (Raising the Word of Allah), is a Jihad envisaged by Islam. While a defensive war to protect the land against kuffaar attack is also a valid Jihad, the type of anarchy of Palestine and Kashmir, whose objectives are the establishment of a Kufr order, is never Jihad. The killers and the killed come within the purview of the Hadith: "The killer and the killed both will be in the Fire."

The 'jihad' outfits presently engaged in the fighting in Kashmir, are immoral secularists having no truck with the Deen. Even if Kashmir is liberated from Indian rule, it will not be a liberation from kufr because substitution of one system of kufr with another system is not liberation in Shar'i terms. The Mujahid is an idol-breaker. He destroys idolatry, shirk and kufr. His mission is not to perpetuate these evils.

Besides the ISI involvement, the masses in Kashmir are decidedly immoral and extremely far from Islam. This is the general condition of corruption prevailing in the entire Ummah of this age. There is therefore no divine aid for those who claim to be fighting battles of Jihad. The first lesson they have to learn is how to wage Jihad against their nafs. Once the Mu'mineen have achieved a high standard of moral purification and spiritual elevation, Allah Ta'ala will open up the avenues of true Jihad in the way in which the noble Sahaabah had unfurled the Flag of Jihad with the musrat of Allah Azza Wa Jal.

EFFECTS OF OUR VICE

Hadhrat Ali Bin Abi Taalib (radhiyallahu anhu) narrated that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: "When

Muslims detest their Ulama; when they elevate the build-ings of their malls and marry because of wealth, then Allah Ta'ala will afflict them with four calamities:

- * Famine in their time
- * Oppression of their rulers
- * Abuse of trust (embezzlement of funds) by the civil servants
- * Attacks by the enemy.

American Hellholes

communities is also going to happen where you live.

The U.S. economy is slowly dying. Only 66.8% of American men had a job last year. That was the lowest level that has ever been recorded in U.S. history.

People are getting desperate. There are ten percent fewer middle class jobs than there were a decade ago and the competition for good jobs has become insane. More than 44 million Americans are now on food stamps and that number grows every single month. Millions more American families fall into poverty every single year.

It is time to face the truth about what is happening to America. Our economy is not growing and becoming stronger. Rather, the cold, hard reality of the matter is that our economy is very sick and it is dying. The seemingly boundless prosperity that we have enjoyed for decade after decade is coming to an end. Our communities are being transformed into absolute hellholes.

Those that are telling you that the U.S. economy will soon be better than ever are lying to you. The U.S. economy is going to go down and it is going to go down hard. You better get ready.

benevolent rulers.

The desecration of the Qur'aan by Muslims is the kufr interpolation and interpretation by means of which they deny the Deen of Allah Ta'ala. Every Tom, Dick, Harry and dumb aunts with dense brains consider themselves capable of interpreting the Qur'aan which even the Sahaabah were unable of accomplishing. As long as this desecration of the Deen continues, so long will the persecution of the oppressors endure. These rulers are the Athaab of Allah Ta'ala for a grossly treacherous Ummah.

Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: "When Allah intends goodness for a people, He appoints over them their most tolerant ones; their Ulama decide their disputes, and He bestows wealth to their generous ones. And, when Allah Ta'ala intends ruin for a people, he appoints their morons to rule them; their ignoramuses to decide their disputes, and He bestows wealth to their misers."

DARING JAIL-BREAK BY 540 TALIBAN

Before they departed, the Taliban lined the tunnel with explosives.

The jailbreak constitutes a major success for the Taliban. Kerzai described it as a 'major disaster'.

While this jailbreak was a well-planned operation, in June 2008, the Taliban made an even more daring direct attack on the Kandahar prison. They blasted their way through the main entrance and engaged in an intense gun battle with the security personnel. Almost all of the 1,150 prisoners, including 400 Taliban, escaped. 30 Mujahideen attacked the facility and killed 16 policemen.
